FROM THE MAYOR

As the excitement of spring training returns to Goodyear, I want to take a moment to highlight the true heart of our ballpark, the volunteers.

When you visit us this season, you'll notice the high-energy atmosphere and seamless guest experience that makes Goodyear one of the best destinations in the league. This doesn't happen by accident. I am deeply grateful for our residents who give so generously of their time to ensure every visitor feels at home.

Our volunteers are the backbone of our operations. In 2025, we celebrated an outstanding year as over 152,000 fans visited Mayor Joe Pizzillo addresses the crowd ahead of the 2024 spring training opener. This year marks 17 years of spring training at Goodyear Ballpark!

Goodyear Ballpark, a 4% increase from the previous season. This rise in attendance was only possible thanks to the selfless commitment of our volunteer team.

Whether it was a sold-out game or a busy weekend double-header, our volunteers were there to ensure everything ran smoothly. Serving in roles such as:

- Ushers providing a friendly face and guidance in the stands.
- Greeters offering a warm "Goodyear welcome" at the gates.
- Guest Services staff helping visitors navigate the facility and find amenities.

These individuals don't just show up, they are true professionals. Every year, our volunteers attend specialized training sessions to stay well-versed in ballpark operations and safety protocols. Their expertise ensures that our "Goodyear hospitality" remains top tier, even as our crowds continue to grow.

I am so proud of the way our community comes together to showcase our city. When you are at the ballpark this season, please join me in saying "thank you" to these dedicated residents; they are the ones making our spring training experience truly special for everyone who visits.

Mayor

COUNCIL CORNER

Spring training is more than a seasonal attraction in Goodyear; it is a significant economic engine that delivers measurable benefits for residents and local businesses alike.

Each year, spring training brings thousands of visitors to Goodyear Ballpark and surrounding areas. These visitors support local restaurants, hotels, retailers and service providers, generating millions of dollars in economic activity during a relatively short period of time. That spending translates into sales tax revenue that helps fund core city services, including public safety, infrastructure maintenance and community programs that residents rely on year-round.

Local businesses feel this impact directly. For many restaurants and small retailers, spring training represents one of the busiest times of the year, allowing them to increase staffing, extend hours and reinvest in their operations. These short-term gains often support long-term stability, helping businesses weather slower seasons and continue serving our community.

The benefits also extend beyond the immediate season. Spring training introduces Goodyear to visitors from across the country, increasing awareness of our city as a place to live, work and invest. This exposure contributes to Goodyear's strong reputation as a business-friendly community and supports ongoing economic development efforts that attract new employers and amenities for residents.

From a city perspective, the infrastructure and partnerships that support spring training maximize the return on investment for taxpayers. Facilities such as Goodyear Ballpark are used year-round for community events, youth sports and regional tournaments, ensuring they provide value well beyond the spring season.

As vice mayor, I remain focused on ensuring that events like spring training deliver real, lasting benefits for our residents. By strengthening our local economy, supporting small businesses and generating revenue for essential services, spring training plays an important role in Goodyear's continued growth and financial sustainability.

Vice Mayor

SPRING LOOKS BETTER WITH BASEBALL

What's the best part of spring training at GOODYEAR BALLPARK?

When spring arrives in Goodyear, so does extra sunshine, visitors and baseball fans ready to trade winter coats for ball caps. Spring training at Goodyear Ballpark is a seasonal tradition worth adding to the calendar.

Barb U. 1m
Getting out of the cold and snow of Cincinnati to sit in the sun and watch baseball. Best feeling. 78

SAY HELLO TO ACE

No visit to Goodyear Ballpark is complete without spotting Ace, the ballpark's biggest fan and official mascot. With high energy, big smiles and a knack for entertaining, Ace keeps the fun going all game long. You'll see Ace cruising the stands, dancing between innings and handing out high-fives all around the ballpark. Whether he's posing for photos or firing up the crowd, Ace's goal is to keep fans smiling. If you see Ace at a game, don't be shy. A high-five is always encouraged.

MOMENTS THAT GO BEYOND THE GAME

Some of spring training's best memories happen after the last out. Fans are invited onto the field for these beloved traditions:

- ❑ Kids Run the Bases after every Saturday game, beginning Feb. 28
- ❑ Seniors Stroll the Bases following the game on Feb. 25 and March 4

Whether it's a child's first dash around the bases or a nostalgic walk across the field, these experiences are part of what makes spring training at Goodyear Ballpark so special.

WHERE SPRING TRAINING COMES TO LIFE

A day at Goodyear Ballpark is about more than innings and scoreboards. From special giveaways to on-field traditions, spring training in Goodyear is built for fans of all ages.

PERKS THAT MAKE GAME DAY EVEN BETTER

When the Cleveland Guardians and Cincinnati Reds square off, arriving early comes with a bonus. The first 1,500 fans through the gates receive a giveaway, and gates open 90 minutes before first pitch – plenty of time to get settled and snag some swag.

2026 GIVEAWAY DATES

A PEEK OF THE EXCITEMENT

If you can't make it to the game, you can still feel the excitement in the comfort of your home. The LIVE in Goodyear cams stream 24/7 from locations across the city. During spring training, tune in to watch fans arrive on the ballpark camera as gates open and game day energy unfolds in real time.

WHAT TO KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

A day at Goodyear Ballpark is all about easy fun, great food and a few can't-miss moments. Here's a quick rundown of what to expect during the 2026 spring training season.

The new Desert Heat Burger brings on the heat with queso blanco sauce, chorizo and jalapenos!

CROWD-PLEASERS ON THE MENU

Come hungry, you won't want to miss what's cooking. Fan-favorite eats are making a comeback, including several dishes you'll only find at Goodyear Ballpark. Dig into classics like Philly cheesesteak nachos, tacos, taco salads and gourmet burgers, along with regional flavors that give a nod to our home teams. Plus, a few new menu items debuting this season including teriyaki beef and chicken rice bowls and The Desert Heat Burger.

ARRIVAL

Parking is free at Goodyear Ballpark and there are three entrances to the ballpark. For quick entry, have your ticket ready to pull up on your phone and know what you can bring through the gates and what needs to stay at home.

Get the complete list of what you can and can't bring to a game at goodyearbp.com/a-z-guide.

TAP, PAY AND PLAY

Goodyear Ballpark keeps things simple and speedy by staying 100% cashless. The Ticket Office, Team Shop and all concession stands accept major credit cards. The Team Shop and concessions also welcome Apple Pay and Google Pay, so you can leave the cash at home.

EXPLORE GOODYEAR

Spring training brings exciting baseball to our city, and it's also the perfect time to explore more of Goodyear and show it off to visitors. Discover scenic hiking trails, enjoy local restaurants and experience the unique offerings that make our community special. Whether you're a longtime resident or hosting guests in town for the games, there's plenty to explore, taste and rediscover beyond the ballpark.

LIVING THE SPRING TRAINING DREAM

John worked as a bat boy before working his way up in the baseball world and eventually landing at Goodyear Ballpark where he's critical in the ballpark business development and coordination of events like spring training.

For John, working at Goodyear Ballpark isn't just a job, it's living out a lifelong dream that started back in Ohio.

Baseball was always part of his life and even though it was a thousand miles away from his hometown, Goodyear Ballpark has long had a special place in his heart, too! Some of his favorite memories are family trips to Goodyear for spring training.

"Some people have Disneyland or the beach," John said. "For us, spring training and baseball were our happy place."

John started his baseball career in Ohio and joined the Goodyear Ballpark team in 2017.

"I always knew I wanted my career to be in baseball," John says. "It feels like I am living out my childhood dream. I am doing exactly what I always wanted to do."

KEY TO SUCCESS

Behind every great day at Goodyear Ballpark is a team of dedicated spring training volunteers who help make the season run smoothly. From the moment fans arrive to the final out of the game, these friendly faces are working behind the scenes to keep everything moving. Spring training volunteers support a wide range of game-day operations. You'll find them welcoming you at the gates, helping with seating and wayfinding, assisting at information booths, supporting special events and lending a hand wherever it's needed. Their knowledge, enthusiasm and willingness to help create a welcoming experience have fans returning year after year. For many volunteers, spring training is more than a seasonal role, it's a tradition.

"The ballpark is my second family. In my 15 years of returning as an usher, I still look forward to seeing old and new faces. Goodyear Ballpark is known as the friendliest ballpark in the Cactus league, and I aim to keep it that way!"

Spring Training Volunteer Judy Tarkowski

COUNCILMEMBER WALLY CAMPBELL APPOINTED TO NATIONAL LEADERSHIP ROLE

Councilmember Wally Campbell has been named vice chair of the National League of Cities' 2026 First Tier Suburbs Council. In this yearlong role, she'll work with local leaders from other cities to share ideas and help shape programs that support growing communities nationwide.

"I'm honored to represent the city of Goodyear once again at the national level," said Councilmember Wally Campbell. "I will work alongside a diverse group of local leaders to share ideas, build connections and help develop resources and programs that benefit communities like ours - communities with similar size, demographics and locations that can be replicated across the country."

Councilmember Campbell has served on several National League of Cities councils and committees over the years, continuing Goodyear's strong voice in regional and national conversations.

CITY MANAGER SEARCH

Have you heard? The city is currently looking for its next city manager. This important leadership transition follows the announcement of City Manager Wynette Reed's retirement. Reed, who has dedicated more than 39 years to public service, will conclude her tenure next month. Her career has been marked by a strong commitment to the community and thoughtful, forward-looking leadership.

Choosing the next city manager is a critical decision that will impact Goodyear for years to come. The city is taking a careful, transparent and inclusive approach to ensure the next leader reflects the values and priorities of the community.
